

LAUNCHING your LEGACY: the Junior League of Raleigh

— 2011-2012 —

ANNUAL REPORT

LISA MARIE FERRELL
2011-2012 President

From the President

The opportunity to lead an organization like the Junior League of Raleigh is an extraordinary gift. Yes, it is a gift that requires a great deal of work and there are plenty of challenges along the way, but as you will read in the pages that follow—it's all worth the sacrifice. As I look back on everything that was accomplished, I would like to share with you from my perspective three key takeaways that I learned while leading this historic organization:

#1 In world of constant change, the Junior League of Raleigh is a rare tradition.

Cognitively I knew this before serving as President, but now I understand it on a deeper level. The Junior League of Raleigh has survived and thrived through everything from the Great Depression, to the social revolution of the '60s and the fright of September 11. The Raleigh League is older than Scotch Tape, the chocolate chip cookie, the Frisbee and even nylon pantyhose. Arizona and New Mexico were relatively new states when our League was formed, and our contemporaries include hallmarks of American culture like the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and the Oscars.

I share all of this to say—if you compare the Raleigh of 1929 to the Raleigh of 2012—there are not many things that are the same. And certainly, this organization has changed since then. But the spirit of voluntarism and desire to create a fellowship of women is the same as it was when Marie Goodwin held the title of League President in 1929.

#2 You can change someone's world with a smile.

One of my favorite moments from the 2011-2012 year was standing offstage at the last General Membership Meeting watching the smiling faces of hundreds of women who were at N.C. State University's Vaughn Towers to celebrate this great organization. Their smiles and engagement were a constant source of my motivation this year. If I was having a bad day, inevitably a League member or one of our community partners would share a heartfelt smile and my mood got a little lighter. I am trying to carry that lesson forward to brighten the days of the people in my life—from my sons, to the cashier at the grocery store and especially to my fellow League members.

#3 People are counting on the Junior League of Raleigh.

Having been in the League for 11 years, I've heard the stats—the number of hours volunteered, the number of community programs supported, even the number of backpacks packed. But this year, more than ever, I heard the stories of the individual women and children who were served by the League—many times directly from these individuals.

To really feel the impact of the League imagine this: Sabrina, a 7-year-old with big eyes and a bright smile who lives in Brook Forest, goes home from school every day to an empty house because her parents are at work and there is no Brentwood Boys & Girls Club for her to go to. Margaret and her son, Sam, hide their bruises under long sleeves and stories of falls that never happened because there is not a SAFEchild to help guide and protect them. Lamar, an 8-year-old who is small for his age and wears glasses to see the blackboard, doesn't tell his teacher that a bigger kid is bullying him because he doesn't know what bullying is and that he doesn't deserve to be bullied. He never got to see the Kids on the Block performance showing him that bullying is wrong and can be stopped.

I could go on and on—but you can see, these examples literally represent thousands of people served by the Junior League of Raleigh.

What we are doing matters.
We are changing lives.

All the best,

Lisa Marie

JLR Board of Directors, 1980-1981

We are...

The Junior League of Raleigh is an organization committed to promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women, and improving communities, through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers.

"The prize is in the doing as opposed to the attaining"

- Lisa Marie Ferrell
2011-2012 President

2011-2012 Leadership Team Goals

1. Strengthen the League's financial position by effectively evaluating and managing all existing fundraising efforts with a focus on maximizing funds raised while simultaneously working to identify new sources of funding
2. Ensure members feel appreciated and heard by focusing on membership development and retention.
3. Expand the reach of our Center for Community Leadership through community impact, outreach and volunteer services
4. Effectively expand the reach of communications with our internal and external communities to educate both about the opportunities and achievements of the Junior League of Raleigh
5. Train Junior League of Raleigh members and community agencies in Wake County through educational programs, networking events and social opportunities

The Junior League of Raleigh's financial statements are audited annually. The condensed financial statements presented above are derived from the 2011-2012 audited financial statements prepared by the firm of Boyce, Furr & Company, LLP. A complete copy of such financial statements and auditor's report may be obtained at League headquarters located at 711 Hillsborough Street in Raleigh or by calling 919-787-7480. In addition, ongoing planning and monitoring of Junior League of Raleigh's income and expenditures are conducted by several in-League volunteer entities. The League's Finance Committee is responsible for advising the Board of Directors and leadership councils on financial matters, assisting in the preparation of the annual budget, examining budgets of proposed projects, reviewing the League's investment portfolio, and reviewing and approving the various reserved funds. Finance Committee members are also designated as liaisons to each Junior League of Raleigh committee. As liaisons, these Finance volunteers serve as information resources on financial matters, assisting committee Chairs in understanding their current year budgets and developing a budget for the next fiscal year. These efforts help assure sound financial management and adherence to the Junior League of Raleigh's fiscal and community service strategies.
