

Justice Beasley

Please join us on April 5, 2016 for the Junior League of Raleigh’s Women Leaders in Public Service Panel. Come hear four of Raleigh’s most influential women discuss the importance of women in public service. Our esteemed panel will include:

The Honorable Cheri Beasley | Justice Beasley currently serves as an Associate Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court. She previously served on the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Justice Beasley has been a member of the North Carolina judiciary for more than 17 years.

Congresswoman Ellmers

Congresswoman Renee Ellmers | Congresswoman Ellmers is currently the United States Representative for North Carolina’s 2nd Congressional District. The second congressional district includes all or parts of Alamance, Chatham, Cumberland, Harnett, Hoke, Lee, Moore, Randolph and Wake Counties.

District Attorney Lorrin Freeman | Ms. Freeman is the district attorney for Wake County. She previously served as the Clerk of Court for Wake County for eight years.

District Attorney Freeman

Clerk of Court Jennifer Knox | Ms. Knox is the Wake County Clerk of Superior Court. Prior to her election in 2014, Judge Knox served 10 years as a District Court Judge in Wake County. She also previously worked as an Assistant District Attorney for four years.

.....

We’re looking forward to seeing you April 5, 2016 at 6:30 p.m.

Julia Jones Daniels Center for Community Leadership
711 Hillsborough Street | Raleigh, N.C. 27603

This event is free and open to the public.

.....

Clerk of Court Knox

Organized by the Junior League of Raleigh’s Government Relations & Public Affairs (GRAPA) team, the Women Leaders in Public Service event is designed to engage more people in the political process as well as educate the League’s members about policy issues that are important to our community.