

The Junior League of Raleigh 2017-2018 Annual Report

Celebrating 88 Years of Community Impact

From the President

Marisa Bryant
President

Since 1930, the Junior League of Raleigh has been training volunteers, building friendships, creating community leaders and touching the lives of many in need in Wake County. Today our League is a modern and diverse organization composed of 1,600 women with a breadth of skills, professional experiences and personal stories. We are brought together by our belief that the shared power of volunteers truly can create meaningful change in our community.

Each year, our individual contributions collectively have tremendous impact. Over the course of 2017-18, our volunteers served close to 26,000 hours of volunteer time. Our Julia Jones Daniels Center for Community Leadership continued to be a great community gift, as we hosted over 50 nonprofits in our rental space and gave more than 300 hours in free rental space to groups doing good in our community. We also launched a Diversity and Inclusion Task Force, held our most successful Touch-A-Truck® event ever, and expanded our BackPack Buddies program to feed hundreds of kids over the summer. We also hired a League director to help us manage outreach and operations.

The accomplishments are possible not just because of our amazing volunteers, but also because of our partnership with other community and civic organizations and because of the wonderful generosity of our donors and sponsors. Whether you are a member, donor or community partner of the League, your contributions make a difference in the lives of women and children in Wake County. Thank you! I invite you to read our 2017-2018 Annual Report to learn more about the Junior League of Raleigh's wonderful accomplishments this past year.

Sincerely,

Marisa Bryant
Junior League of Raleigh
2017-18 President

More than 225 members devoted their League year to serving the women and children we reach through JLR's 11 Community placements. JLR's BackPack Buddies team packed 6,240 bags of food for children in need in our community this year.

Volunteer Impact

League members volunteered nearly 26,000 hours this fiscal year. Valued at $25.43 per volunteer hour by the Independent Sector, that totals $661,180.

Women in Public Service Panel

With the theme “Charting Her Course,” JLR’s third Women in Public Service Panel, inspired women in attendance to get involved in their communities. A diverse group of elected officials -- all women -- in local and state public leadership participated in panel discussion focusing on themes such as finding your tribe, overcoming barriers for women leaders, developing your network and initiating your community involvement. Thanks to JLR’s Government Relations and Public Affairs team for bringing this groundbreaking group of women to our Center for Community Leadership.

Team Training: Uncovering Your Best Self

Through a year-long series, Uncovering Your Best Self, Team Training invited JLR members to reflect and explore strategies for positive personal change. Guest speakers led JLR members through a True Colors assessment aimed at improving communications, gave them strategies for maintaining a successful work-life balance, and taught networking tips to improve genuine, personal connections. A panel of veteran League members also gave advice on how to navigate the League to make the most of training and opportunities.

Talking to Kids about School Shootings

In a partnership with WRAL’s Go Ask Mom, JLR hosted a public discussion at the Julia Jones Daniels Center for Community Leadership about how to talk to kids about school shootings. Dr. Stephanie Zerwas of UNC-Chapel Hill’s Department of Psychiatry led participants through strategies for speaking to children at different ages in a way that is appropriate for their developmental stage. Parents, teachers and concerned citizens walked away with useful tools to talk with the children in their lives about this terrifying topic.

Photo: Our GRAPA team hosted a some of our state’s most influential female community leaders at our annual Women in Public Service Panel.

A Shopping SPREE!

The success of one annual fundraiser, A Shopping SPREE!, allows JLR to give back to the community all year long. Each year, before the shopping gets underway, JLR kicks off SPREE! festivities by awarding grants to area nonprofits whose purpose is to improve the lives of women and children in Wake County. At SPREE!'s Preview Gala, JLR presented the 14th annual Legacy Grants in the amount of $5,000 each to these agencies: Community Music School of Raleigh, Read and Feed, and 1 of Us. Thanks to the JLR volunteers who hosted another amazing shopping event, to our generous sponsors and to all the members of our community who make SPREE! part of their holiday traditions.

Day of Giving

To celebrate the 88th anniversary of our founding, JLR hosted an inaugural Day of Giving on March 13, 2018. The Annual Fund team asked our League and the community to pull together and support our organization in a big way. Our goal: To raise $25,000 in a single day. Through the generosity of 253 donors, JLR raised $42,402 on our first Day of Giving. Not only did Day of Giving significantly boost Annual Fund for the year, but it also rallied JLR members and community partners around a common goal.

Touch-A-Truck

The third annual Junior League of Raleigh Touch-A-Truck® fundraiser on Saturday, April 14 was a truckload of fun for all! This year's event benefited the JLR's Backpack Buddies program, a partnership with area schools and YMCA of the Triangle's Camp High Hopes, together feeding over 300 children from food-insecure families in Wake County. Held at a new location, the NCSU Spring Hill Parking Lot located at Dorothea Dix Park, the event was a hands-on opportunity for children in our community to see, touch and discover several types of machinery while learning about how they operate. With sunny skies and 80 degree weather, the stage was set for an amazing day!

Join

The Junior League of Raleigh is open to women who have an interest in volunteerism and developing the potential of women, as well as a commitment to improving our community. Will you join us in making Raleigh a better place for all?

Support

You can support JLR as a corporate or individual donor to the Annual Fund, or by supporting one of our fundraisers: A Shopping SPREE!, Touch-A-Truck® or the N.C. Governor's Inaugural Ball.

Partner

The Junior League of Raleigh prides itself on being an active part of the community. While a substantial part of our efforts directly impact members of the community, we also partner with other agencies to help with their community efforts. The strength and size of the League's membership also allows us to support other agencies with their own projects. JLR's Quick Impact team provides hands-on help to other community agencies with short-term projects or events. Also, JLR board members are available to provide leadership and guidance to other community agency boards. Not all community groups have dedicated meeting and training space. To fill that need, the Julia Jones Daniels Center for Community leadership, the League's headquarters, is available for public use by other nonprofits and organizations. Meeting and training space is available at reasonable rates.
